

Joan E. Gosier

So often we hear people complaining about why it is sooo hard to do business with black folks.

I often challenge these people by asking, "Did U tell this to the owner and how did he or she respond?"

They often say, "Well...I just don't go back that's all!"

So today, I wanted to be 100% hypocrite FREE and give a HUGE SHOUT OUT TO CDJ PROMOS, INC. for helping our company out in a PINCH!

The situation was my hubby and I promote education through a unique and inspiring line of clothing for children. For my oldest daughter's preschool graduation back in 2007 we co-sponsored a graduation gift to the entire class by giving UNITY GEAR that told the world they were each an "Achiever in Training". Well, this year my youngest daughter's pre-school graduation "snuck" up on us. I looked at the calendar and realized that in less than a week... if I did not DO something for her graduation class...it would be irreversible in the future-YIKES!

I panicked and could not really think of another new or past design we could get quickly produced in time for her graduation AND the fact we were leaving town for a wedding the next day. Our supplier for our "Achievers in Training" requires a 1 week lead time-MINIMUM! I prayed over my situation.

I recalled that last year, CDJ PROMOS, INC. had produced a sample batch of baby t-shirts for our newest design, "GbG" which means GIFTED BY GOD. I called up our LADYBUG MARKETING Group member to see if it was a pipe dream to get this project done in time. We worked quickly back and forth...in a few hours she made it happen with a quote we could live with! I don't know how she did it, I don't know if she even made a penny off the invoice, I don't know if she stayed up all night to put those shirts together by hand, BUT I DO KNOW that the day of the graduation, that box was waiting for me to get busy! LOL

The quality was SUPERB on every single shirt.

We were able to gift package each one with an autographed card from my daughter enclosed to the entire class. They seemed to be a BIG HIT and I heard several parents say they would be wearing the shirts on the class field trip the next day. Since we are JUST getting back in town, I have not had a chance to follow up or get the photos uploaded on our website from that night...BUT I WILL!

I just wanted to send this LOOONG TESTIMONY, to publicly THANK CYNTHIA and her team for DOING AN EXCELLENT AND HIGH QUALITY AND PROFESSIONAL job! If she could have seen the faces of the children receiving the gifts, then I know she would have felt CONFIRMATION that GOD was in the midst of this transaction! U are the BEST!

WE CAN DO THIS!

Sistery love,

Joan E. Gosier

www.BlackParentConnect.com

www.WeALLstartsmall.com

www.AchieversinTraining.com

www.HBCUkidgear.com

www.HBCUkids.com